

EMPLOYMENT REFERENCES

Description:

We will contact your applicant's previous employers to request a verification of dates of employment, position held, salary, and eligibility for re-hire. The level of information we are able to verify will depend upon the previous employer's policies. Keeping this in mind, we can also develop specific questions to ask, tailored to your individual needs.

Features:

Resume fraud is an ever-increasing problem and the only way to catch those who claim to have held positions and to have specific experience that they do not possess is to verify the information at the source.

Benefits:

Avoid wasting company resources and potential liability by hiring only those applicants who have honestly represented their qualifications and experience and who have the ability to perform the duties associated with your job requirements. Verifying previous employment and speaking with references can also provide insight into a person's integrity (if they lied here, what else will they lie about?), skill sets, past performance and their ability to get along with others.

How it Works:

Using information provided by your applicants, we will contact previous employers to verify the information provided on their application. All information gathered will be documented, including who we spoke with, when and at what telephone number. Reference information is available to you as soon as we obtain it, via our secure web site.
