Post-Hire Criminal Watch

"Post-Hire Criminal Watch" regularly scans our National Criminal Database and notifies you when criminal records are found for active employees. By monitoring employees' post-hire criminal activities, our "Post-Hire Criminal Watch" enhances risk prevention measures which help minimize workplace crimes, create a safer work environment, and improve business performance.

While pre-hire screening is an extremely effective tool for uncovering an applicant's history, this practice can fall short on identifying criminal misconduct of employees after they are hired. "Post-Hire Criminal Watch" alleviates this shortcoming by providing on-going post-hire screening that monitors current employees for criminal behavior. This enables employers to identify at-risk behaviors and then terminate employment of individuals that do not meet your organization's criminal background policies. This frequently overlooked screening is critical to fully manage the risks associated with workplace theft and violence.
